Celebrating Aging Through the Performing Arts

Greetings!

The arts come in so many forms. Do you remember this backdrop from 2018's show "Simply Stellar"? It was an original watercolor made just for us by Jo Meyers-Walker (that we made big enough to fit on the back wall of the Ames City Auditorium). The 60+ crowd has so many amazing talents. Some are just easier than others to include in a variety show. So whether your "thing" is painting, pottery, cooking, or carving make sure to nurture and share those gifts! If you would like to see more of Jo Meyers-Walker's work, check out her blog at theleftbankstudio.com.

Every Saturday you can find a brand new performance or a favorite flashback from one of our 25 shows on Facebook

Hint for our next featured performer.

Words without thoughts never to heaven go according to Shakespeare. I suspect the words from this new performer are having coffee with St. Peter at the pearly gates right now.

What are you doing since Covid 19 showed up?

"I have written a book, & am continuing to work on something for SVS with a friend, but it's been a slow on-again, off-again project. However, we'll keep working. - Alice Thompson"

(Editor note. Really Alice?! I haven't even READ a whole book, let alone written one. That's awesome!)

And Jon Pritchard reminded us of one of his favorite Steven Wright quotes "I walked my dog from New York to Tampa Bay, FL and back" - then I said "There, now you're done"."

(Editor note - that's why I have cats Jon.)

You can send your quarantine projects and ideas to us at storycountysvs@gmail.com and we will share. Building community one project at a time.

Eureka!

If you are at least 60 and have an idea of something you would like to share as a featured performer on our Facebook page just email storycountysvs@gmail.com

Still Supporting The Troops

Before we know how, ahem, interesting 2020 would be we committed to supporting another Freedom Flight to Washington. Although their plans have been delayed, a little piece of the Senior Variety Show will be sending them on their way when it is safe to fly again.

Social Media and Social Distancing

We had not heard of Zoom calls a year ago, and now SVS is zooming down the road with an Instagram account, updated website, as well our presence on Facebook.

Email Envy

Do you know someone who would like these infomails? (I just made that word up.) We don't necessarily have emails for members of the larger groups that have been in a show, our fabulous audience fan base, or the kids, grandkids, friends, neighbors, and former accountants of our performers. Forward this to them and they can request being added to our list and getting the scoop on what SVS is up to.
